Dear Parents,

May 20th, 2016

I am writing to update you on the plans we outlined in our communication on May 13th, 2016.

The safety of your children is our priority and we will continue to search for information and answers of how this unimaginable act has happened. We have now coordinated the opportunity for our families to come together to discuss all that has unfolded in a meeting that will include myself, our Board Executive, the Halton Police Force, the Peel Police Force, Halton Children's Aid Society, and Commit to Kids. This meeting will be an opportunity for families to hear and share information with the panel.

We truly hope that you find this session helpful and supportive during this time. The session will be held at:

Tivoli Room

Teatro Conference & Event Centre

For planning purposes, please be sure to leave us your name and the number of adults attending.

We also identified in our last communication that a resource would be developed and provided to you. MCRC's Early Years staff have developed the attached Information Sheet in collaboration with Radius and ROCK that provides parents with a variety of relevant resources to help support and guide you through this difficult situation. Resources include; appropriate websites, support agencies, book titles, and information on how to talk to your children. If you have further questions in regards to the resources and how to use them please contact or visit our Parent Educator, Petra Samson, located in MCRC's Parent Library. petras@mcrc.on.ca

We continue to make every effort to support MCRC families and are committed to helping find answers to the difficult questions coming out of this situation. We want to ensure a safe, quality environment where children can play, learn and thrive.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Barrows-Vrankulj
Executive Director, MCRC
